Accelovance Executives Join CHPA and Sponsor Upcoming Conference

Rockville, MD – March 31, 2008 – Executives Stephen J. Trevisan and Robert C. deGroof, PhD join the Consumer Health Products Association (CHPA) on behalf of Accelovance to increase the company's presence in this niche segment of the pharmaceutical industry. The CHPA is an organization committed to promoting the increasingly vital role of over-the-counter medicines and nutritional supplements in America's healthcare system through science, education, and advocacy. The association provides leadership and guidance on regulatory and scientific issues to Congress; state legislatures; and federal, state, and international government agencies.

Accelovance President and CEO, Stephen J. Trevisan commented, "The CHPA is a great organization that brings executives together to share information with partners across the globe to ensure the safe and responsible use of OTC medicines. This membership allows us to be more involved with an industry segment perfectly suited for Accelovance's services."

Through previous executive positions in pharma, biotech and clinical services, Mr. Trevisan and Dr. deGroof join the CHPA membership with a strong background in OTC products, research and development. Additionally, Accelovance has committed to an associate level sponsorship of the upcoming CHPA Regulatory and Scientific Conference this spring. The event will bring CHPA members, industry executives and OTC researchers together in Washington, DC May 8th and 9th.

Headquartered in Rockville, Maryland, Accelovance is a privately held company that has developed a unique system for delivering quality, on time, and cost effective clinical studies. In China, the Company operates through its wholly-owned foreign enterprise in Beijing as a contract research organization (CRO). Accelovance is focused on optimizing the quality and productivity of multiple clinical sites, through strong central management and targeted pro-active patient recruitment. Delivering high quality and timely clinical trial support services, Accelovance is committed to understanding and meeting its clients needs to contribute to their success.
